

away before setting out on the first "hop" of her Trans-Atlantic flight.

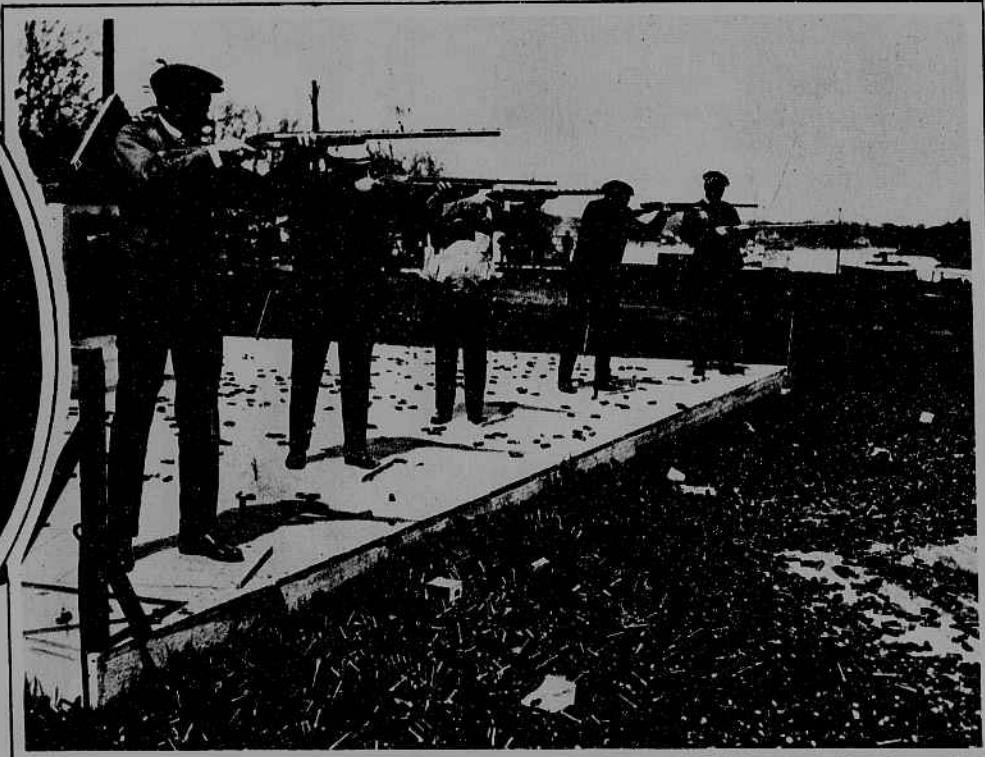

Keystone View

Right—A close-up of the giant NC-4 receiving her final grooming. The NC-4 and the NC 1 were damaged to the extent of some $10,000 in a nasty fire in their hangar early last Monday morning, but repairs were quickly made. Tribune Photo

Vice-President Marshall a new bonnet previously worn by a officer and presented to the Vice- by the Victory Loan Committee efforts in behalf of the loan.

Underwood

A scene at the annual trapshooting championships of America recently held at Travers Island. For the first time the championship title goes out of the country, J. E. Jennings taking it back to Canada after breaking 197 clay birds out of a possible 200.

Underwood & Underwood

Right—Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Treman leave the Little Church Around the Corner after their marriage last week. Mrs. Treman was Mrs. Vernon Castle and her husband is an ex-captain U. S. Aviation Corps. International Film Service

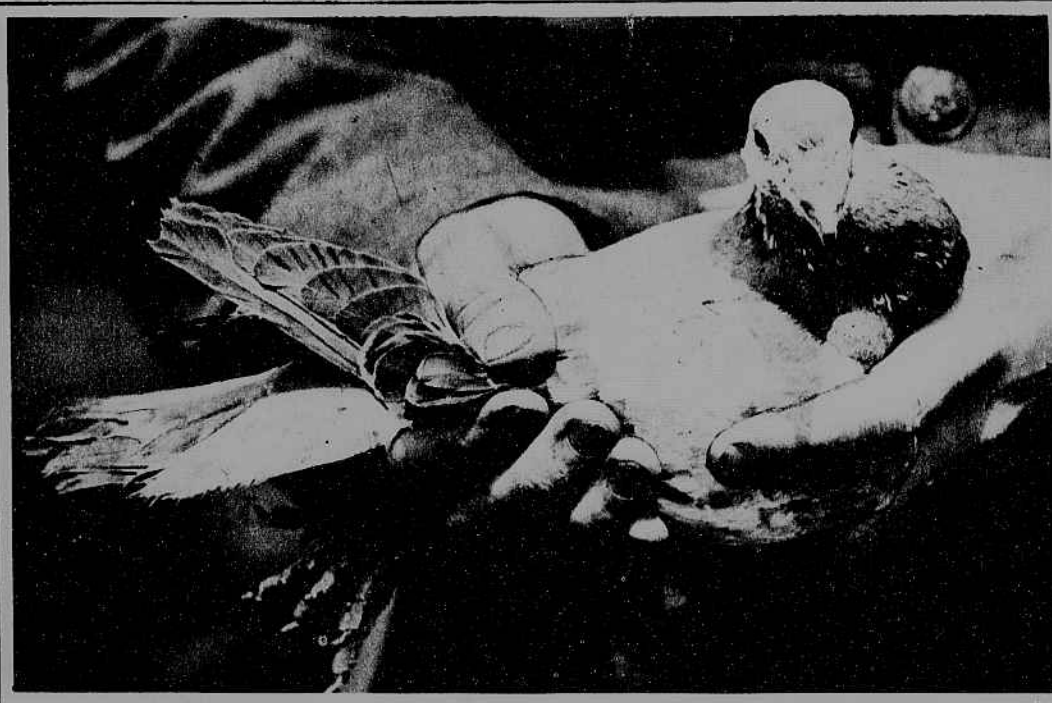

All that a queen should be in beauty of face and of spirit is Queen Marie, beloved sovereign of Rumania. Queen Marie hopes to visit the United States in the near future. From a hitherto unpublished photo. International Film Service an aeroplane circles above the cross of Father Junipero Serra, a famous old mission padre, at the eleventh annual Easter sunrise service on Mt. Ribadoux, Riverside, Cal.—a non-sectarian religious service inaugurated by Jacob Riis. Fifteen thousand pilgrims attended the service and overseas men were the guests of honor.

War Camp Community Service

"Spike" has the distinction of having carried more messages through the lines during the fighting on the French battlefield than any other Yank pigeon. Only a small carrier pigeon, but his fifty-two delivered messages saved uncounted numbers of soldier lives. International Film Service

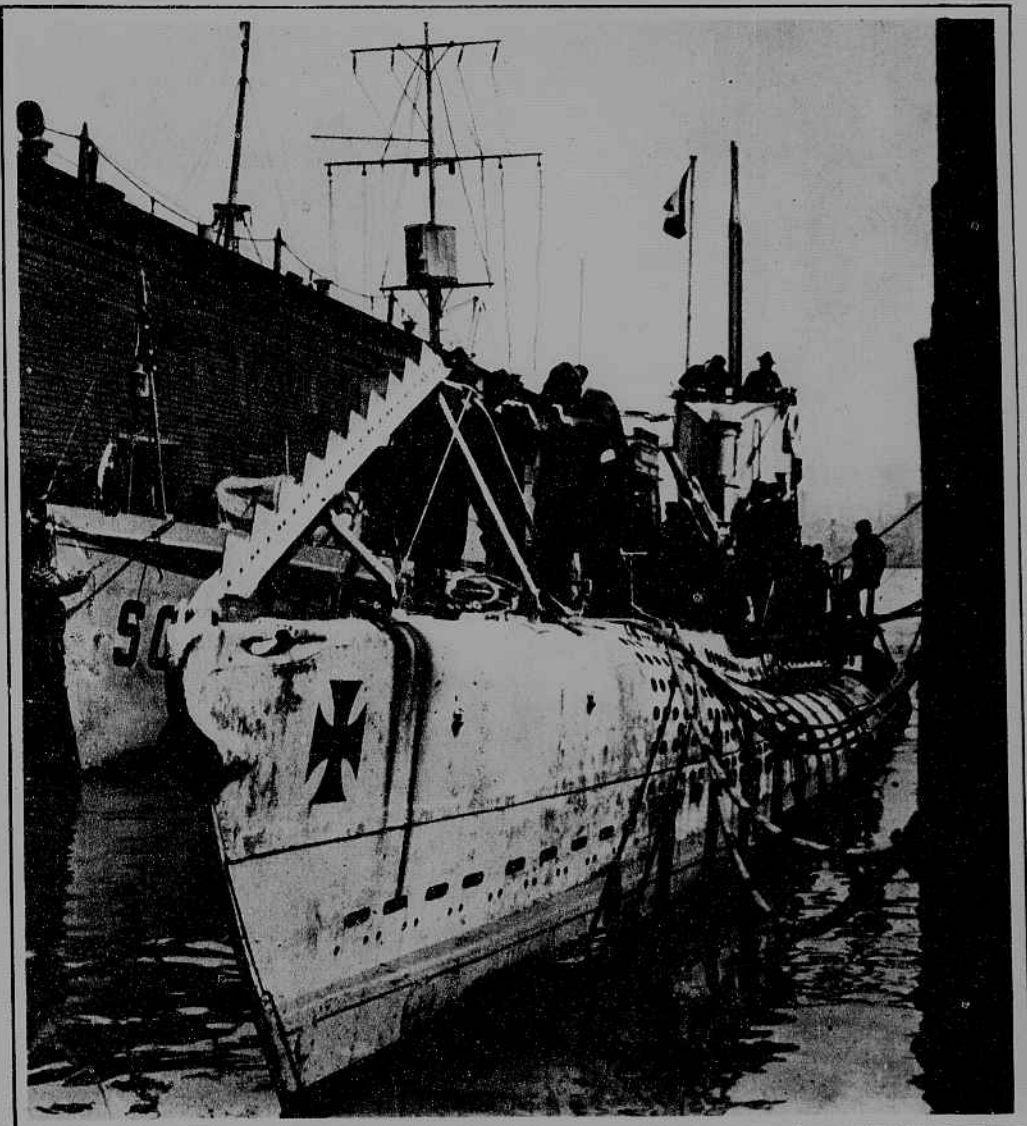

International Film Service

here's airplanes. The Traymore is the first hotel in the country to have airplanes at the disposal of its guests.

Rescued from the horrors of war and placed in the Methodist home at Ecully, Lyons, this small orphan follows the orderly instincts of her peasant foremothers and briskly plies her little broom.

The captured U-148 lying at her Hoboken dock serving the Victory Loan, her visitors being often moved to subscribe. The saw-toothed contrivance on the prow cut through the dangerous anti-submarine nets and mine moorings.

International Film Service